CURRENT SPORTING GOSSIP SALE OF PHILLIES AFFECTS BASEBALL POLITICS.

Purchase of the Club Will Probably Mean a Controlling Vote for John M. Ward as National League President-Spec-

The purchase of the Philadelphia National rue club yesterday probably means that the new owners will swing the Philathat the new owners will swing the Phila-delphia club's vote to the support of John M. Ward for the presidency of the National League. The Ward combination, consist-ing of Brush of New York, Murphy of league's permanent president, but re-cently he took a sudden shift. Brush, however, is said to be in daily communi-cation with the Cincinnati magnate regarding the candidacy of Ward, and as combination holds the whip hand he is combination holds the whip hand he is expected to line up without further delay. If such a thing occurs Brush and Herrmann, backed up by Murphy, Ebbets, and Robison, will have Barney Dreyfus, and Robison will have Barney Dreyfus, and Robison will have Barney Dreyfus, and Robison will have Barney Brush and Herrmann, backed up by Murphy, Ebbets, and Robison will have Barney Brush and Herrmann, backed up by Murphy, Ebbets, and Robison will have Barney Brush and Herrmann, backed up by Murphy, Ebbets, and Robison will have Barney Brush and Herrmann, backed up by Murphy, Ebbets, and Robison will have Barney Brush and Herrmann, backed up by Murphy, Ebbets, and Robison will have Barney Brush and Herrmann, backed up by Murphy, Ebbets, and Robison will have Barney Brush and Herrmann, backed up by Murphy, Ebbets, and Robison will have Barney Brush and Herrmann will have been interested in baseball cases, for many years, while Mr. Schwarz is a silk manufacturer.

mann, backed up by Murphy, Ebbets, and Robison, will have Baruey Dreyfuss, owner of the Pittsburg world's champions, hopelessly in the minority, acturer.

For the first time in nearly six years will be eliminated. When Pulliam was alive and Dreyfuss controlled with stock the Pittsburg. Boston and Philadelphia clubs he was able to swing enough votes on almost any question to defeat Brush and Herrmann, with the result that there was continued iil feeling, together with numerous charges and counter charges.

But politicis makes strange combinations and just now Dreyfuss appears to have been beaten at his own game.

It was also common gossip among the baseball politicians yesterday that Herrmann, who is anxious to be reelected chairman of the National Basebal Commission, and the sale was made continued in the National Basebal Commission, and the sale was made continued in the National League, and when he fainds that the Ward faction is in control it is said, believed that the Ward faction is in control it is said, believed that the Ward faction is in control it is probable that they were actuated by the National Commission worked in cooperation of during last season.

Hurst is another square referee who has had wide experience. He has officiated at some of the most important mills decided in this country including the Walcott-Lavigne. McCoy-Sharkey, Maher-O'Donnell and other contests. As a baseball umpire he is known to thousands of fans all over the United States, and his integrity has never been questioned. Other referees who may be discussed by the big fighters are S. C. Austin, John White, Jack McGuigan of Philadelphia, Malachi Hogan of Chicago and Eddie Graney of San Francisco, who will make a bid for the contest.

Dick Burge, once England's lightweight champion until Kid Lavigne knocked him that at the National Sporting Club of London fifteen years ago, has been resurrected on the other side after serving a prison sentence for swindling, and a newly found backer has offered to match him for $1,000 a side against Freedie Weich, the new British thieholder. Burge has been doing a boxing sunt in the London music halls and has shown considerable skill for his age, but to put him against Weish would be little less than sheer brutality. Weish would cut him to pieces, no doubt, and also put him to sleep in a bout that could not attract much attention.

President Gibson of the Fairmont A. C. Innounced yesterday that the revewal of boxing bouts would be left to a vote of the club's members and that if there is an overwhelming sentiment in favor the sport the club will arrange a series bouts between local boxers to be held only in January.

Judging from the crowds that attended the races at Jacksonville and Tampa on Thanksgiving Day the sport will thrive in Florida this winter. If racing is kept clean at these tracks it is believed that prosperity will increase. There were more than 7,000 persons at Jacksonville, where twenty-five bookmakers handled plenty of business while 5,000 patrons were on hand at Tampa and made things hum for a dozen chalkers. When Juarez opens next Wednesday the winter racing game will attract more general attention than ever before. Oakland, which is operating on a comparatively small scale because of the oral betting system, has been overdevoting much attention to Jacksonville because of the many well known borses racing there. In fact Jacksonville looks like Aqueduce or Jamaica in the quality of the racing material.

SHEPPARD WINS GREAT RACE. Beats Gissing by Two Inches in St Gregory's Games.

The games of St. Gregory the Great took place last night at the Twenty-second Regiment armory before a crowd of about 3,000 persons. The main event of the night was a 550 yard scratch event, the main contenders being M. W. Sheppard and W. C. Robbins of the Irish American A. C., and Harry Gissing of the New York A. C. As an instance of sharp eyesight and keen calculation the verdict was a striking ex-ample, for it was said that Sheppard won by two inches from Gissing. A number of Chicago motorists have organized the Auto Drivers Protective Association, with the avowed purpose of making "war on reckless drivers, rich or poor, small or great." The association begins its career with 115 charter members, and the following officers were elected; President, Walter W. Wilcox; F. McH. Kitching and T. A. Snow, vice-presidents; Roy O. Gilbert, treasurer; Neil Gronberg, secretary; E. M. Seymour, general counsel.

The police officers of Worcester, Mass., established a number of speed traps on Main street between the City Hall and Webster Square. The officials of the Worcester Automobile Club say the traps were established as a result of complaints being made of reckless driving. The officials of the Worcester club have issued a request that automobilists drive carefully when passing through their city and that all drivers observe the speed limit of fifteen miles an hour in the thickly settled portions of the city.

Providence motorists expect to have some great automobile races next year, as work has been started on the reconstruction of the one mile track at Narragansett Park. The track has been ploughed up and is being prepared for the new surface over which the motor cars will speed. It is reported that the track managers have decided fo make the banked turns of cement blocks or paving bricks, and to have a cement surface laid along the stretches. The men interested in the project expect the work of rebuilding the one mile course can be completed so the opening races can be held early next summer.

J. A. Wister, president of the Philadelphia Automobile Trade Association, has appointed W. J. Foss, A. E. Maitby and Allen Shelden members of a special committee to investigate the possibilities of securing clubrooms where the members of the dealers organization might gather daily for lunch and to discuss matters of interest to the trade. The committee is styled the club committee and Mr. Foss is chairman.

The project of securing a clubroom at some accessible point along Philadelphia's Automobile Row was first suggested at a recent informal gathering of some of the members of the association and it was received so favorably by those present that President Wister was authorized to appoint a committee to handle the matter. Practically all the members of the organization have expressed their approvation have expressed their approvation the dealers will soon have a clubroom of their own.

The question of the proper amount to be allowed for second hand cars by dealers when taking old machines in part payment for new ones is another matter that has been much discussed by the Philadelphia dealers. In order to straighten this matter out President Wister has appointed a second hand car committee consisting of S. deB. Keim, chairman; W. P. Berrien, W. Wayne Davis and F. C. Eveland.

W. Wayne Davis and F. C. Eveland.

The National Highways Protective Society has requested the president of the Board of Education and the Children's Aid Society to help keep children from playing in the streets on account of the danger of injury from automobiles. Its request was in the form of a letter which read as follows:

"So immense has the automobile traffic become, the danger to the children of this city, due to the reckless driving of irresponsible chauffeurs, is great, as shown by the number of killed and maimed during the month of October. Will you not send out to the several schools a 'warning.'

"Many children attach themselves to moving vehicles, jump off, and are run down by automobiles. They also dart out from behind piles of brick, &c., on the streets and highways, and in some cases try to see how close they can get to an automobile without being run over.

"The license to run an automobile at the present time does not require any recommendation as to the character of the applicant, neither does it require any examination as to the ability of the applicant, neither does it require any examination as to the ability of the applicant to operate the machine in a densely populated community."

The reason given for the horses going to the hammer was that Farley was through with trotting "not temporarily, but permanently." In his statement he said I am done."

Buyers af the sale yesterday were lukewarm in their bidding, the result being that it was the slackest day of the sale. Until the resale of Denver, the top figure was $690 for Lou Star, the new owner being J. W. Morrison of this city. Lou Star is a six-year-old bay mane out of Wilstar out of Victorine, and she has a track record of 2:3½. She started eight times this fall and was in the money every time she went to the post. According to her owners she could have done 2:10, but was raced so that she might stay in the 2:24 class.

The lowest price yesterday was $75 and that was paid for Bell Stanford, a trotter by Stanford out of Brown Prince, with no particular record. She was bought by E. L. Pitman of Trenton, N. J.

During the evening s ession the buying was a triffe more brisk. One of the notable lots sold was that of George H. Huber of New York. They were the "Pandits," seven in number, and brought the moderate total of $1,660, or an average of $237.50. The pacer Frank A., with a record of 2:13½, brought the nice price of $1,025, the purhaser being W. R. Fleming of Danbury, Conn.

FOUR CRACK PLAYERS SUR-VIVE FOR SEMI-FINAL.

erreshoff Will Meet Douglas, While Travis and Travers Will Come Together To-day-Douglas, in Great Form, Wins With Ridiculous Ease.

The best amateur golfers in the Eas The best amateur golfers in the East will compete in the semi-final round of the open tournament on the links of the Country Club of Lakewood to-day. They are Fred Herreshoff of Garden City, Findlay S. Douglas of Nassau, Walter J. Travis of Garden City and Jerome D. Travers of Montclair, and they will meet as named. After Herreshoff defeated Albert Seckel, the intercollegiate champion, in the first round it was generally conceded that the round it was generally conceded that the first named would put in a strong claim for chief honors, although Travers, Travis and Douglas all had a best of admirers.

The conditions were almost ideal, more especially so when compared with the abominable weather of the first two days. The genial warmth of the sun soon chased the snow away, and after the greens were rolled no one had any cause for compalint. The only element to militate against low swept across the links.

Unquestionably the surprise of the day resulted from the speedy elimination of Seckel, who after losing to Herreshoff in the first round fell a victim to Joseph Knapp of Garden City in the beaten eight division wild driving was responsible more than DEMAREST'S SWIFT FINISH anything else for the double defeat of the Princeton golfer, and it was also a notice-able fact that his short game was not nearly up to his usual standard. These mistakes proved costly, as Herreshoff was generally

Herreshoff went out in 41, good enough to enable him to turn for home 3 up. Seckel won the tenth hole in 3, but only got a half in 4 at the next because he laid his man a styme. They halved the next three holes in par figures, but Herreshoff won the fifteenth and sixteenth and the match by lows:

Later in the day Herreshoff disposed of J. A. Janin, although the former Staten Island title holder, thanks to a streak of brilliant putting, kept the match going to the seventeenth green. Earlier in the day Janin had beaten Knapp after at one stage eing 4 down.

Douglas never in his long career on the links, displayed better form than yesterday. In both of his matches, which were won with ridiculous ease, the Scot drove long balls, approached in deadly fashion and putted in a manner that contrasted vividly with his short game of a few years back. Against his club mate. Frank Jennings, in the morning Douglas went out in 41 and the best Jennings could do was to halve one hole. Douglas won by 7 up and 6 polay. Later Douglas again struck a great pace at the expense of Col. Smith of Wilmington. Here the Nassau man won every hole going out and the match by 8 and 8. In working their way through the first round Travers and Travis had few anxious ound Travers and Travis had few anxious moments. Travers was opposed to Prof. A. F. Simons of Dyker Meadow, and it was not until they had reached the turn that the veteran seemed to realize that he would have to do some playing. Up to that time Simons had been practically holding his man. Travis finally won by 3 and 2. won by 3 and 2.

The Frenchman hit up the pace again in the fifteenth inning. In planning and in doing his run of 10 was as near prefection as one generally goes. The balls were kept within a small compass, so deployed that their relative distances from one another were noticeably uniform and within close proximity of one another. He didn't have to make a long table drive until well past the fifty point, and the run went on with the same evenness and consistent position play. As the spectators were applauding the hundredth shot the balls rolled into a lineup, as if affected by the atmospherical disturbance. Cassignol had to scatter them to count, and then he missed. The applause at least affected the player's poise, broke in on the harmony and loosened the player's sway over the involves.
